Farmingville, NY – On May 3, Councilman Michael Loguercio (right) welcomed a group of Bellport High School seniors to Town Hall. The students, who participate in a work based learning class led by Ms. Kelli Scotti, came to Town Hall for an opportunity to meet the Councilman, take a tour of the various departments and discuss potential post-graduation employment opportunities with the Town.

Councilman Loguercio said, "It was my pleasure to meet with the students, give them a tour of Town Hall and talk about all the opportunities there are to work in government. They were very enthusiastic and I expect that when they graduate we may see some of them starting a career in public service."
